Our monitoring will allow us to discover and understand how the project has been implemented, its results and what difficulties and to communicate them our job to raise awareness of the issue. The project examined for the civic monitoring has no direct impact with Molise territory because it doesn't foresee a partner in our region. However it was chosen for the interest that the issue also has for Molise, a region that in recent years has been rediscovered by many tourists, not only Italians. The project can certainly be interesting for experts and professionals in the field of artistic and architectural heritage, but certainly also local Administrators, associations, Molise Region- Department of Culture.
